The famous American educator Horace Mann once said: "A human being is not, in any proper sense, a human being till he is educated."

Do not let yourselves be fooled, however, by those charming pictures your admiring relatives take of you in your cap and gown at your high school graduation. A high school diploma is not the label to paste on a finished product of education. A graduation is a commencement—a beginning of the process of becoming educated among other things.

Some of you will continue the process of becoming educated in the classrooms of some institution of higher learning. Do not be misled into thinking you have therefore found a pleasant or efficient four year short-cut to becoming Horace Mann's definition of a human being. Think of the experience of the prominent citizen who rebelled at the sight of the great number of courses his son would be expected to take at a certain college. The father sympathized with his son's desire for a quick education. The college president gave them this answer: "Certainly he can take a shorter course. It all depends on what he wants to make of himself. When God wants to make an oak He takes twenty years, but He only takes two months to make a squash."

How many years must be required to make an educated human being? All the years that a longer life expectancy is bestowing on man by the efforts of those who continually educate themselves—and the rest of us—in the best ways to live and prosper.

Keep that goal before you—whether you go to college or not—strive for it constantly—that the end of your days may at last find you a human being—educated at last—rich in wisdom.

"Your honour's players, hearing your amendment, are come to play a pleasant comedy . . ." And a "pleasant comedy" it was! In keeping with those of the past, the 59th Senior Production, The Taming of the Shrew, proved once again to be a most successful and worthwhile undertaking.

The Class of '62 and, in fact, the whole school are proud of the performances of both the Wednesday and Friday night casts. They all did a wonderful job! Each member of the acting body took away with him at least one fond memory of the good times, excitement, and experience of participating in the Senior Play. Perhaps some will never forget the hard work, yet fun, of nightly rehearsals. Others will always remember the moment at the very beginning of the show when the cast came down the center aisle of the auditorium, laughing and cheering. Still others will cherish always the feelings of relief and joy, mingled with those of regret, as the curtain closed at the end of the play.

Everyone, though, will carry away with him the pride of a job well done.

All those who took part in this year's show want to thank Victor DiNardo, Production Manager, Mary O'Toole and Hsueh-lie Uong, Student Directors, for all the hard work, time, and effort they extended in order to make our play a memorable one. A vote of thanks is also given to Patricia McGee, Art Director, Gregg Hathaway, Technical Director, and the whole production staff for their invaluable help.

Each person connected with The Taming of the Shrew extends a warm and heartfelt "thank you" to Mr. John Joyce, Faculty Supervisor. For his hours of work, his patience, and especially his guidance we are most grateful.

We hope that each time Mr. Joyce looks at the portrait presented to him in appreciation of his efforts he will remember The Taming of the Shrew as well as the Class of '62.

Class History

Whoever would have believed that the timid, apprehensive mass of sophomores, huddling on the front lawn of the Leominster Senior High School in September, 1959, would develop into the "mighty class of '62?" When more than thirty of our boys made varsity teams in their first year on the "hill," our development started to obviate itself. And our girls weren't to be outdone. As early as their sophomore year they gave evidence of becoming, next to the Class of '57, the most outstanding group of girl athletes LHS has seen.

Toward the end of our sophomore year our ability to recognize leadership became apparent. Robert Howe, Peter Dipaoli, Elena Firmani, and Victor Di Nardo were chosen to represent us in our forthcoming year at LHS.

After ten months in a new environment, sharing new experiences, we were anxious for our summer vacation. However, we were back, bright-eyed and full of hopes for a successful junior year. For five of our junior girls the year certainly started out well. Jane Vivo Amore, Loretta Bissonnette, Joyce Gardner, Priscilla Irish, and Bette Palazzi were chosen cheerleaders for our remaining two years.

Mary Mac Donald brought more honors to our class by achieving second place in the Annual Better Speech Contest. The first monetary success claimed by our class came when we made a substantial profit on our Junior Class Spaghetti Supper. Our chairmen were very grateful for the class co-operation.

Late in our junior year our class showed its artistic talents at the Junior-Senior Prom. Sandra Hembrow and her committee made "Three Coins in the Fountain" a prom to remember.

In the spring of our junior year the National Merit Scholarship Examination was administered. Our school and our class are proud of three members who received certificates of merit, and expecially of Susan Craigue, who was entered into the list of semi-finalists.

Once again it was time for class elections. Elected were: Lance Carluccio, Bette Bilodeau, Elena Firmani, and Victor Di Nardo. The first undertaking of our officers was the Junior Class picnic at Willard Brook. With this outing, our second school year on the "hill" came to a close.

But once again, we were back in the fall, looking forward to perhaps our most memorable year at LHS. Soon the football season got into full swing. Our senior boys, with some valuable under-class help, gave us a dramatic and well-deserved 26 to 12 victory over our arch rival, Fitchburg. But this victory was only one distinction among several. Our Leominster High team was named North Worcester County Champions, and Central Massachusetts Class A Champs, and our class named Mr. Charles Broderick Coach of the Year. Late fall brought with it the Better Speech Contest. Ozzie Watkins of our class won second place.

Then came the Senior Class Spaghetti Supper, which was again a success due to the organization and co-operation of all those concerned. Our social season was marked by the G.A.A. Holiday Cabaret and the Winter Carnival Ball. Both of these dances will bring back memories in years to come. As it is every year, the Senior Class play was one of the highlights of our high school days. Who will ever forget the Class of '62's hilarious presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew?" Then came our last prom on May 12, 1962, and we realized that our senior year was really drawing to a close. Soon graduation rehearsals began, and in no time we were together at our last class function before graduation—our Senior Reception.

Then, on June 17, we, the "mighty Class of '62," terminated our high school years and joined the ranks of LHS alumni.

One of the most active clubs of L.H.S. is the G.A.A., the Girls' Athletic Association. It was formed seven years ago by our physical education teacher, Mrs. Patricia Pothier. The purpose of the club is to assemble girls with a mutual interest in sports. Among its social activities are the Orange Crush Dance, which is held every year as a rally before the Leominster-Gardner football game, the Holiday Cabaret, which celebrated its fifth anniversary this year, and the Spring Social, which is a mother-daughter tea. The climax of the social year is the G.A.A. Banquet. It is financed by the various fund-raising activities sponsored by the club throughout the year.

The '61 season of the Leominster High football team began at Holman Stadium on Friday, September 22. Dick Franciose led the Leominster eleven to an 8 to 7 victory over the Purple Knights of Nashua High with his brilliant 49-yard run and two point conversion pass. The outstanding defensive play was made by Doug Furbush as he stopped Beaupre on Leominster's 10 yard line.

Following the Nashua victory, Leominster played its first home game of the season against Marlboro High. The eleven Broderickmen began to roll in the second quarter, and the game ended in a victory for LHS. The score, Leominster 28, Marlboro 14.

Leominster encountered one of her roughest opponents of the season when she met the Wealthy Towers of Brookline High on October 7th. In her only loss of the year Leominster scored 6 points, while Brookline claimed the spoils with a total of 24 points.

On Saturday, October 14, an undefeated Lynnfield squad clashed with a high-spirited Leominster team. Mazz sparkled on defense as well as offense, catching and blocking passes as he quarterbacked the mighty Blue Devils. Dick Franciose was the number one spark on the offense, hurling two touchdown aerials. Spectacular catches were made by Frank Iacaboni and Tyke Mazzaferro. Rogers and Rosbury, making some nice gains, saw plenty of action. Leominster claimed her third victory of the season with the final total Leominster 22, Lynnfield 14.

Friday, October 20, brought another victory for LHS in the form of an away game at Manchester Memorial. The Leominster squad played a fabulous game with the line, particularly Ferrera and Ciprotti, deserving special credit. It was all Leominster and the final score: Leominster 8, Manchester Memorial 6.

The date of October 28 produced Leominster's sixth win of the season. Mazz scored two TD's and passed for the third in the 18-0 victory over North Quincy, as he was ably assisted by Moose Valeri, Rogers and Rosbury in the backfield. In the line it was Jim Ferrera, Jake Ciprotti, Surette, Petricca, Horgan, and Ojala who turned out the best pieces of work.

It was Mazzaferro day at Gardner on November 4th as he led the Broderick eleven to a tremendous upset over the Wildcats of Gardner High at Stone Field. The LHS team was in top form as they overthrew the undefeated Gardner team in a 20-7 victory. Franciose caught the Gardner defense off guard with his quick-kick and the line played one of its best games of the season. Mazzaferro, alone with Valeri, Rogers, Rosbury and Franciose, gave Leominster its twenty-first victory over Gardner. Sammy Valera was outstanding defensively.

Dick Franciose and Roger Rosbury led Leominster to its 30 to 8 win over the Polar Bears of Worcester North, backed up by a high-spirited, hard-working team. In the second quarter the Leominster offense began to explode and North could no longer hold down the Blue Devils. Franciose was at the throwing end of some accurate aerials with Dave Valeri and Roger Rosbury receiving. Phil Rocca pounced on a fumble, as did Frank Iacaboni later in the game. Norman Ferrera and Dave Rodriquenz did a terrific job filling in for Mazz at the quarterback spot. Nelson Valeri, along with Rogers, Horgan, and Surrette, turned in excellent defensive performances. But, unquestionably it was the sparkling, aggressive play of Jim Ferrera which helped make this victory over Worcester North such a mighty accomplishment for the L.H.S. linemen.

After a long and victorious season the biggest and best game of the year finally arrived. It was a snowy Thanksgiving Day as the Leominster eleven poured out on to Doyle Field ready and eager for the annual conflict. The L.H.S. team performed in high gear with the line and backfield acting like precision parts of an intricate machine. Moose Valeri and Mazzaferro riddled the Fitchburg defense as the eleven Broderick-men of Leominster sailed over Fitchburg with a final score of 26-12.

Worth mentioning is the fact that eight of Leominster's men made the North Worcester County All-Star Squad. Claiming positions on the first team in the line were Jake Ciprotti and Laurie Petricca, the only junior on the team, and in the backfield were Bob Mazzaferro and Dave Valeri. L.H.S. players also dominated the second team squad with Frank Iacaboni, Dick Franciose, Roger Rosbury and Tom Rogers chosen as team members.

It would be impossible to credit individual players with this season of victory. Each member of the team, offensive and defensive, contributed greatly towards making the 1961 Leominster High School football season an unforgettable accomplishment. We are very proud of the combined efforts of Coach Broderick, Coach Novelli, their staff, and of all the members of this fine football team.

Coach Lance Fowler's basketball quintet experienced an exciting season this year claiming 9 victories and 5 losses.

In the senior department, Henry St. Cyr tops the list in total points scored, netting the amount of 309. John Salvatelli and Tykie Mazzaferro were two of the team's best ball handlers caging a good many of the winning points. The swish of the basket was not an unfamiliar sound to the persons of Alan Asikainen and Bill Sims.

The strong junior section on the squad makes next year's team look promising. Bob Hudson saw an active season as did Bill LaPrade. Dave DeCarolis and Dick Barry, for the year's results, shall prove valuable in our next season.

The team played many an exciting game, one of the most exciting being the near upset over the supposedly unbeatable Lynnfield team with Leominster claiming 54 points to Lynn's 55. Southbridge also proved to be an hair-raising affair with the Blue Devils netting a total of 103 points as compared to their adverseries 48.

Additional honors were acquired by the squad as they entered the Bay State finals, defeating St. Johns of Danvers, Winchester High, and an especially exciting upset over Welsey. Tykie Mazzaferro and Henry St. Cyr were nothing short of fabulous in the Wesley upset. The place of runner-up was established following the loss of Monsignor Coyles High of Taunton.

The team's high man, Henry St. Cyr, made the first team of the North Worcester County Allstars with the honorable mention list including Bob Mazzaferro, John Salvatelli, and Bob Hudson.

The mermen of the Leominster High School Swim Team had an exciting season this year, winning 5 and losing 3 of their 8 meets and placing 4th in the state meet at Amherst.

The team profited a great deal from its strong senior backing. Ralph Caisse had a good season swimming the 160 yard relay, 100-yard breast stroke, and securing a second place at the state meet. Dave Breault proved to be proficient, participating in the 100-yard butterfly, 160-yard relay, and taking a fifth place in state competition. Also giving the team strong support were Ed Grimley and Bill Briggs, both swimming the 50-yard freestyle with the diving in the capable hands of Jack Hathaway.

The juniors were by no means slackers on this year's team. Jeff Johnson was the outstanding junior, setting a new record in the backstroke. Dave Baker did an excellent job in the 200-yard freestyle as did Marc Levine in the 100. Harry Mchugh proved to be a strong contender in the 160-yard individual medley and 100-yard butterfly. Gary Heline showed excellent form in the diving department, securing many valuable first's and second's, including a second in the state meet.

Randy Valencort, outstanding sophomore and high man on the team, swam the 400 and 200 yard freestyle. Other good sophomore prospects include, Dick Allardice on the backstroke, Bob Marshall with the breast stroke, and Lee Ricker in the 200 and 400-yard freestyle.

A second place was secured in the state meet's 200 yard medley with Johnson swimming the backstroke, Caisse the breast, Breault handling the butterfly, and Grimley in the freestyle. The time was 1:58.3 as compared with the record of 1:58.2. Seventh place was also clinched in the freestyle department with Briggs, Levine, Baker, and Valencourt participating.

Congratulations:

You are leaving this school in one of the most challenging and interesting times that this world has ever known. You will have to make one of the most important decisions in your life from three important avenues of activity; whether to continue your education, whether to enter private industry or whether to enter the Armed Services. America needs young, energetic people who will do the best that is in them. May you truly represent this school in all your future plans.

I wish each one of you Godspeed in all of your work and endeavors.

AUTO MECHANICS

The Auto Mechanics course is now four years old. Many students have enrolled in this course to learn more about the automotive world.

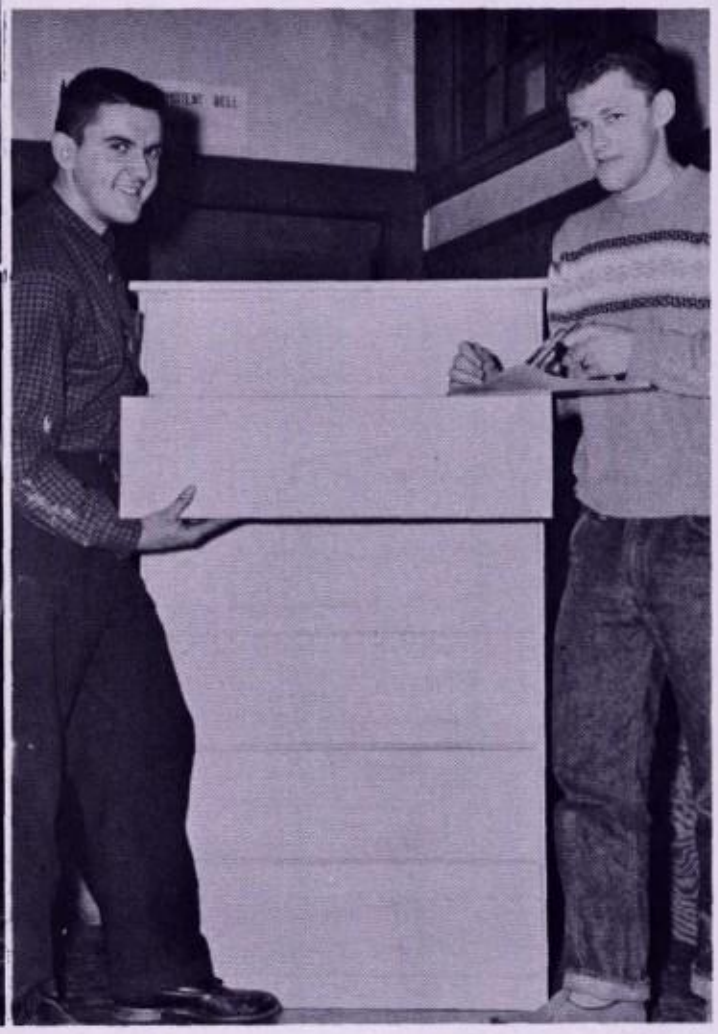
The students have a wide assortment of tools, which are used under the direction of their instructor, Mr. Gilbert. The equipment and garage facilities, along with excellent instruction, have made this a very worthwhile and interesting course.

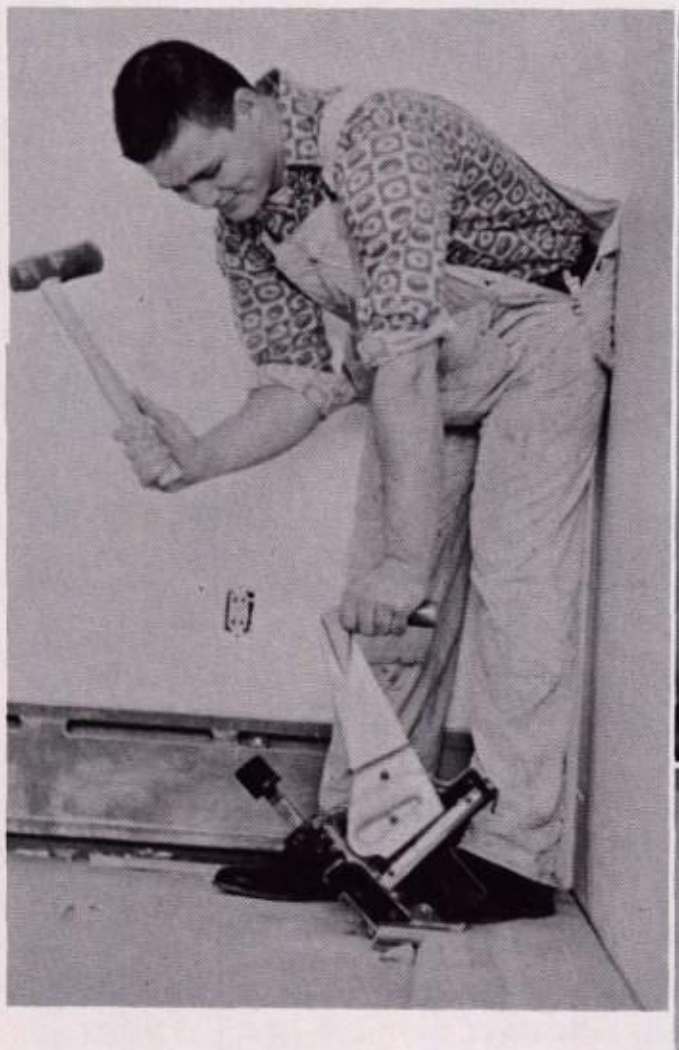
The related classes are taught by Mr. Hatch, who gives complete coverage of the technical aspects of the trade. The automotive industry is expanding and the call for mechanics is increasing. The graduates of this course are well suited to fill these positions.

CABINET MAKING

As we think back, we realize the great amount of knowledge we have gained from our instructor, Mr. Lunan, during the past four years in the Cabinet Department. The first two years were devoted to the operation and maintenance of power tools, which are most commonly used by cabinet makers. Our junior and senior years in the Cabinet Department were spent making cabinets for houses, private concerns, and the Leominster Public Schools. In our related classes, Mr. Lunan taught us blueprint reading and layout drawing. He also taught the mathematics and science which are connected with the trade.

The students owe a great deal to Mr. Lunan for the outstanding quality of teaching he has given them.





CARPENTRY

Carpentry for the freshman and sophomore year at Saxton Trade High School is taught by Mr. Burton. Mr. Burton teaches the new students how to operate all the basic tools a carpenter needs in his trade. The student begins by learning the proper method of sharpening saws and chisels. He must also learn how to manipulate a rule, level and transit.

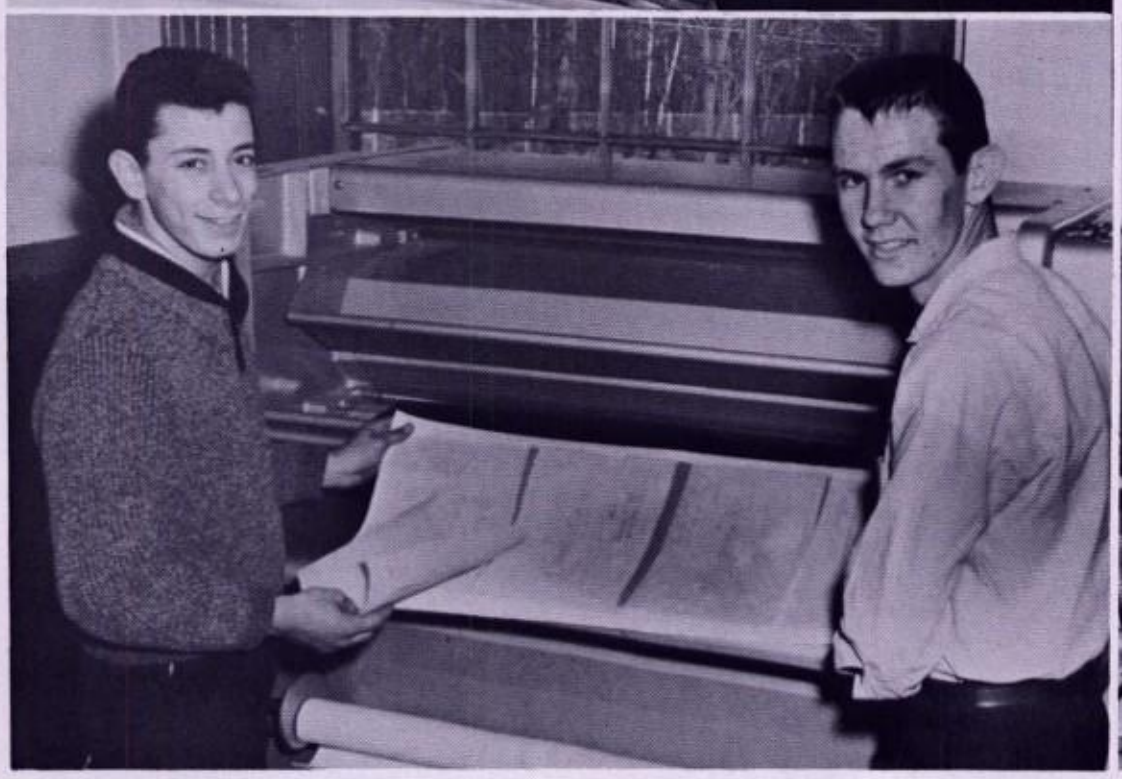
In his junior and senior year the carpentry student advances to the most important part of his training, which is supervised by Mr. Mooney. Work is begun on an outside project, the building of a house. Construction on the house starts in September, and is completed in June. Group participation in this project is excellent training for the students' professional career.

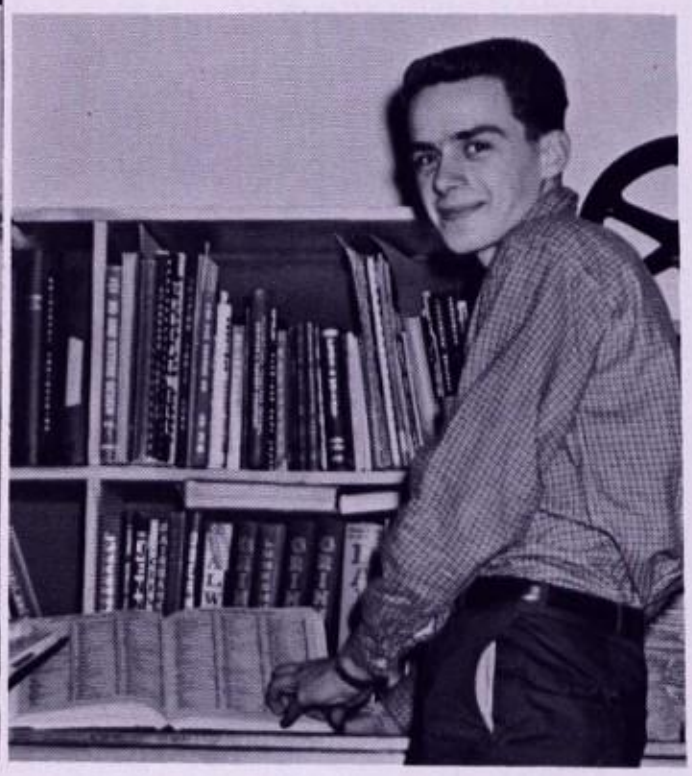
DRAFTING

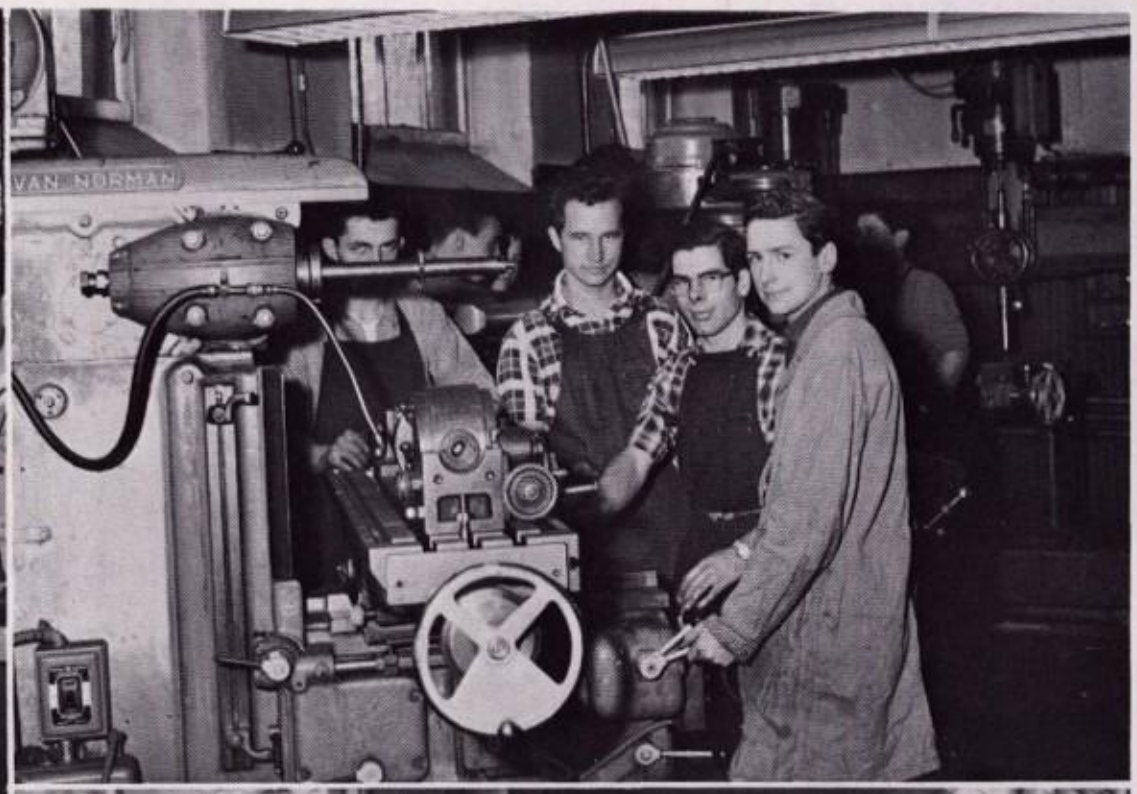
The drafting course offers a well-rounded curriculum in all trades. There is detailed study in mathematics, physics, and the use of a slide rule. Patterns for metal castings made in the Cabinet Shop are used in the drafting lab foundry. All draftsmen must have Machine Shop training as a prerequisite.

The main part of the course is drawing. In the first year, emphasis is placed on manual instruction in the proper use of instruments. Later a draftsman begins to draw air cylinders, castings, jigs and fixtures, piping, gearing, and welding problems. Before graduation the students create a complete detail and assembly drawing of a mold.

Saxton Trade has an outstanding drafting teacher, Mr. Hemenway, who spends a great deal of time closely supervising each student's work.







MACHINE SHOP

The new student begins his machine shop training with Mr. Fontaine. Here he learns the operations and functions of a lathe. He also works with precision instruments such as the micrometer, vernier height gauge, and combination square. In his preliminary training he makes "V" blades, step blocks, and a tap wrench. This gives the student an opportunity to become adept in the usage and maintenance of a drill press, bridgeport, and various types of machines for different job layouts.

The student spends the remainder of his machine shop training with Mr. Membrino. The building of an injection mold, under the direction of Mr. Bilotta, in his project for the year. With patience and determination the project is completed, leaving the student with the necessary experience to continue successfully in the field of machine operations.
